‘The Statesman’ celebrated train heads into North Wales for a journey along the spectacular coastal route with sweeping sea views and climbs high into the Snowdonia National Park and up the stunningly beautiful Conwy Valley. There is the option of spending time at either the popular tourist centre of Betws-y-Coed or Blaenau Ffestiniog where we have an optional steam excursion on the famous Ffestiniog Railway

Travelling across the Cheshire plain to Chester and passing the Roman Walls we enter Wales running alongside the Irish Sea on a coastline famed for its beaches and views. At Llandudno Junction the train reverses for the spectacular journey up the beautiful Conwy Valley where a breath-taking range of scenery unfolds, from historic castles through estuary rich in wildlife, to gentle slopes that give way to majestic crags with views of tumbling waterfalls and high mountains. The high peaks of Snowdonia are on view before our train enters the imposing slate landscape of Blaenau Ffestiniog. It is here you may join our optional tour. The train returns in the late afternoon retracing our journey over the same enchanting route.

FFESTINIOG RAILWAY

Adjacent to the main line station in Blaenau Ffestiniog is the terminus of one of the Great Little Trains of Wales - the narrow gauge Ffestiniog Railway which was built in 1836 to carry slate down to the coast. Our privately chartered steam train will be waiting to take you on a return journey to Tan-y-Bwlch as it twists and turns around the mountainside offering spectacular views across to Harlech and beyond. Seating is limited to 150 passengers so early booking is essential.

Supplement: £25 per person

MOBILITY

This tour is not suitable for guests with wheelchairs or serious mobility issues as the platforms at some stations are much shorter than our train or accessible only by a footbridge and it may be necessary to walk through several carriages when boarding or alighting. It is not possible to transfer between our train and the Ffestiniog Railway in a wheelchair.

This special tour on 'The Statesman' celebrated train offers a journey to the heart of Scotland's capital where shopping is always a unique experience but at Christmas - it's truly magical, when the gardens beneath Edinburgh Castle are transformed into a Winter Wonderland with traditional Christmas markets.

Following departure from your local station 'The Statesman' whisks us north over the border and through the beautiful Scottish Lowlands for an arrival into Edinburgh Waverley station around 13.20 and an afternoon break of around 3 hours. The station is located just below one of the UK's most historic and popular shopping areas - Princes Street, with its beautifully lit trees and international stores on one side and a traditional German & Scottish Highland Christmas Market on the other.

There is something for everyone in this truly enchanting city with numerous attractions all within easy walking distance - from the giant Christmas wheel that lights up the sky high above the festive gardens, a stroll down the Royal Mile to the Palace of Holyroodhouse, or the impressive fortress of Edinburgh Castle. Scotland's capital has everything and what makes it even better is the magical combination of festive lights, Christmas events and the unique yuletide atmosphere
